SunGard's Adaptiv and Front Arena Win Banking Technology Readers' Choice Awards

London - November 15, 2011 - SunGard has won two categories in the 5th annual Banking Technology Readers' Choice Awards. SunGard's Front Arena, a global capital markets solution that delivers position control and electronic trading across multiple asset classes and business lines, was named "Best Trading Solution", and Adaptiv, a suite of solutions for enterprise-wide risk management, was voted "Best Risk Management Product." Both solutions have been recognized in every Readers' Choice Awards since their inception in 2007.

The Banking Technology Readers' Choice Awards are determined by votes from the publication's 40,000-plus readership. Readers were asked to nominate their choice of vendors and products across a range of categories

David Bannister, editor of Banking Technology, said: "The banking industry continues to face extremely challenging times, and building out enterprise-wide infrastructures across geographies, business lines and technology is crucial. The Banking Technology Readers' Choice Awards are a unique opportunity for banks and other purchasers of these systems to publicly recognize the companies and solutions that are helping them manage – and even thrive – in this environment."

Juerg Hunziker, president of SunGard's Front Arena and Adaptiv business units, said: "Customer feedback is a critical element of both our business strategy and our product development plans. Winning these awards is recognition that we are providing the technology and services that our customers need."
