

PHASE3 ON DEMAND LEARNING

The Phase3 Training department is your partner in providing you and your employees the tools needed to help make learning efficient and cost-effective.

Phase3 On-Demand Learning offers you a blended learning environment. The three delivery solutions are: Webcasts, eLearning courses, or facilitator-led training seminars to accommodate your training and performance support needs.

1. Webcasts are pre-recorded training seminars that provide audio accompanied by synced desktop demonstrations of the Phase3 UserInterface (UI). Our Webcasts provide a thorough, high-level overview of Phase3's functionality. (Audio sound card required)

2. eLearning courses consist of several concise modules that focus on specific tasks. Phase3 UI eLearning courses do not contain audio; however, they do provide a greater degree of detail along with robust demonstrations.

3. Facilitator-led training programs are provided in a classroom setting and offer direct, one-on-one contact with the instructor or other Subject Matter Experts (SMEs). Learning is reinforced by hands-on lab exercises and assessments. Training is held at our training center in Burlington, MA, or arrangements can be made to have these seminars conducted at your location.

We are continuously adding to our growing library. Please contact us for rates and the appropriate plan for your organization. We would also like to encourage you to visit the Training page on the Phase3 Customer Connection for additional information on all Phase3 training solutions.

PHASE3 ON DEMAND LEARNING FEATURES:

- Tracking and course management system can provide you with reports on your employees' progress and the ability to assign a unique set of courses based on the employee's role.
- Unlimited playback access allows users to go back and review content as many times as needed within the subscription period, making these courses very cost effective.
- Interactive objects such as knowledge check questions, simulations and demonstrations reinforce content and enhance the learner's experience.

Webcasts

Webcasts are pre-recorded training seminars that provide audio presentations from Phase3 Subject Matter Experts (SMEs), accompanied by synced Microsoft® PowerPoint slides and/or desktop demonstrations of the Phase3 UI.

A table of contents allows users to focus on specific subtopics within each Webcast to help make learning more efficient. Webcasts can also be viewed multiple times within the subscription period to accommodate the learner's schedules and learning styles. Our Webcasts provide a thorough overview of many of Phase3's functionalities. The estimated run time is listed on the back page. (Audio sound card required)

eLearning Courses

eLearning courses consist of several concise, task-specific modules. eLearning courses go a step beyond Webcasts by providing more detailed instructions reinforced with interactive knowledge check questions, simulations and demonstrations.

Bookmarking capabilities within the Learning Management System (LMS) allow users to start where they left off if they need to break up their training time. eLearning courses can be viewed multiple times within the subscription period to further accommodate busy schedules and learning behaviors.

eLearning courses do not contain audio, so they can be accessed and viewed anywhere. Estimated run time is listed in the next column.

Facilitator-led Training Seminars

Facilitator-led training programs are set in a classroom setting with instructors and Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) with in-depth knowledge of the Phase3 system.

Facilitated training provides you the ultimate blended training solution when combined with our other online resources.

These seminars provide a supportive environment for furthering your knowledge of the Phase3 system.
